

KUKA wins major contract in body-in-white production

Augsburg, December 21, 2020 – In the third quarter, KUKA was able to convince with the award of a major contract from a German premium car manufacturer.

KUKA received an order from Mercedes-Benz for the engineering and construction, as well as the assembly and commissioning, of several body-in-white production lines. In the future, various vehicle models will be produced here.

Out of four packages offered for the essential components of a body shop line, KUKA was able to win the customer for all four packages. KUKA is using its extensive technological expertise and several hundred KUKA industrial robots for the customer's flexible production strategy.

"We are proud that KUKA is convincing here with its comprehensive expertise and decades of experience in the automation of the automotive industry", says Gerald Mies, CEO of KUKA Systems GmbH.
